Former White House Weddings.

There have been twelve weddings in the White House. The first was the marriage of James Madison, the president. Lucy Payne Washington, widow of a nephew of the President Washington, was married March 11, 1811, to a Kentucky widower. Just after the war of 1812, Miss Anna Dodd, a cousin of Mrs. Madison was married to John G. Jackson, a member of the House of Representatives.

Miss Maria Monroe, was the first daughter of a President to be married in the White House. On March 9, 1820, she was married to Samuel Gouverneur, of New York.

The fourth wedding was that of a President's son, John Adams, to his cousin, Miss Mary Hellen, of Philadelphia. During the administration of President Jackson three weddings were celebrated. The first was Miss Della Lewis to Alphonse Pageot, Secretary of the French Legation. Shortly afterward Miss Mary Easton, of Tennessee, was married to Lucien Polk. The next was Miss Emily Martin, a relative of the President, who became the bride of Lewis Randolph.

The eighth White House wedding was that of another daughter of a President, Elizabeth, the third daughter of John Tyler, was married Jan. 31, 1842, to Wm. Waller, of Williamsburg, Va.

Then in order on May 21, 1874, the wedding of Nellie Grant took place. The bridegroom was Algeron Sartoris, of England.

One wedding took place during the administration of President Hayes. His niece, Miss Emily Platt, in June, 1878, became the bride of Gen. Hastings.

Grover Cleveland was the only President married in the White House. His marriage to Miss Francis Folsom, took place June 2, 1886. Since which time there has been no wedding at the White House until the present time.

Protection for Game.

Washington.—The thorough restocking of game covers is urged in a report issued by the department of agriculture in a report on "Game conditions in January."

"Now that the hunting season is practically over," the report says, "the biological survey suggests that efforts be directed toward insuring more effective protection of game and an adequate supply for the future. Owing to the non-migratory character of quail and the consequent depletion of various localities where hunting has been excessive or the birds have been killed off by the severity of the past two winters, restocking is frequently necessary, but the demand for live birds for this purpose far exceeds the available supply.

"The difficulty is augmented by the facts that southern birds are scarcely hardy enough to stand Northern winters, and hence it is difficult for northern states to secure birds suited to their climate.

"Perceiving that absence of food and shelter is the principal cause of mortality, state officials, game associations and many private individuals have united in attempting to make good these deficiencies. Grain and other foods have been distributed freely and systematically after heavy snowfalls, when the usual food is covered, and suitable shelter has been provided.

"Much activity prevailed last year in Illinois, Indiana, Massachusetts, Maryland, New Jersey, North Carolina and West Virginia. Such measures are needed to preserve the quail from possibly ultimate extinction."

Diamonds Were Found.

Middletown, Ohio, Feb. 19.—While clearing the refuse from a stuff box on a machine at the Gardner Paper Mill Saturday Assistant Engineer William Cline found a large diamond of the first water.

In the afternoon Everett Lindsay found another diamond in the trash pile at the Gardner mill yard, and in a short time a large crowd was hunting diamonds in the debris. Four more were picked up by Geo. Davidson, Charles Herman, Bob Davidson, and William Halesock. The gems are valued at $1,000; the one found by Lindsay being a pure white stone worth $200. The diamonds are a part of a necklace, which has probably been in a lot of rags shipped to the mill and run through the beaters.

Worth Recounting.

(From the Gallipolis Tribune)

Two physicians were poking around for five minutes in a poor soldier's abdomen with probes and scalpels, when the wounded man said: "What in thunder are you fellows doing? Why don't you get busy and sew up that hole?" "We are probing for the bullet," said one of the doctors. Probing for the bullet?" said the soldier. Why you idiots I've got the bullet here in my pocket."

Trains are hardly ever on time in Texas. But one day a train pulled into a town on the very dot. Citizens rushed around and got up a purse for an engineer in honor of the first train that ever arrived there on time. The engineer said: "I can't take this money, friends; this is yesterday's train."

An editor's gasoline engine burst the other day, delaying the paper. The editor explained the accident as follows:

When we started to run this edition off the engine gave away, allowing the guilderfuke to fall and break as it struck the plunkerfopper. This left the gang-plank with only the flip-flap to support it, which also dropped and broke off the wapperchoke. This loosened the fluking in the fibersnatcher, which also caused trouble.

"The story that trouble was caused by Peruna is a falsehood, our bruised eye being caused by the dingus tumbling against it.

Flame from Mountain.

Hot Sulphur Springs, Col. Feb. 20.

Has Colorado's first volcano since the almost forgotten ages broken forth? Have the mighty granite mountains of Grand County once more been rent by some powerful and irresistible force that has been held captive for countless centuries and is this section again to be devastated and engulfed under oceans of molten lava?

These questions have agitated the people of this section all day today, and tonight there is much genuine alarm felt in Hot Sulphur Springs, for what is believed to be a genuine volcano is belching forth flames and smoke from the side of Mt. Sutton, a lofty craggy granite peak located three miles south of this place.

The mountain is burning, and not through any human agency, nor is the fire being fed by material that might have been placed there by intent. There is no timber or coal in that section. The flames appear to be consuming the very granite of the mountain and the fire is growing as it burns.

One investigation of the volcano was made to-day by a party of reputable citizens of Hot Sulphur Springs, headed by city Marshall Stillwell McQuery, Sheriff Solomon Jones and Editor John Brown of the "Middle Park Times." This party ventured as near as they deemed safe and made a cursory examination. Every member of the expedition is positive the fire is volcanic in character, and as that the flames appear to be consuming the very rocks from which they spring. The dense volume of smoke that rolls skyward are thickly impregnated with sulphur fumes and every once in a while there it a faint indication of ashes.

Two Men Killed.

Sargent, Ky., Feb. 24.—One of the most desperate moonshine battles fought in this section in years took place on Carr's Fork, in Knott County, Kentucky, just beyond the Letcher line 15 miles west of here, at an early hour this morning. Perry and Cal Sloan, brothers, alleged moonshiners, were killed, while Deputy Collector Malcolm Holliday, a fearless young officer of Perry County, was fatally wounded, being shot three times. The ball from a 45 Colt's pistol entered his left side and ranged upward. The other wounds were less serious, and his friends have hopes that he may recover.

Murders Grow Frequent.

When murder is so frequent as it is in Chicago and where the murderers so often select women as their victims, these crimes cannot be regarded as mere sporadic outbreaks. They indicate a widespread and dangerous contempt for law and defiance of organized society. Furthermore, they show that Chicago has within its borders a spirit of animalism which causes men to kill for the mere pleasure of killing. Wantonly to destroy a woman's life is the act of a beast not of a man. It is this bestial disregard for woman that is appalling. It is time for the men of Chicago to wake up and protect the women of Chicago. The laws must be enforced and means of securing their enforcement must be found.—Daily News.

Either the Chicago police force as a whole is incompetent for its duty, or it lacks the means with which to perform its function and do the work it should do for Chicago. No matter what the cost it is imperative that at least human life be made normally safe in Chicago.—Inter Ocean.

Nothing can remove the stain that has been put upon our civilization by this atrocious murder. The fact that such a thing was possible here is an indictment of us all.

What is the stain of our churches, our schools, our moral sentiment, if they are not able to prevent the production of such a monster in the twentieth century, in the second city of the most enlightened nation in the world? There were about 160 homicides in 1905 in Chicago, but not one of the murderers has yet gone to the gallows. The Ivens case is a good opportunity to inaugurate a new and better system.—Daily Journal.

The Ladies of the Methodist church at Fayette will have to be "shown" that Andrew Carnegie is not getting tigh in his old age. They raised $1,200 in the expectation that Mr. Carnegie would donate an equal amount for the purchase of a pipe organ, but the latter, after making inquiries as to the church, its size, cost and condition, sent word that in his judgment $1,200 would buy an organ plenty good enough for the edifice.
